By June Jones

IT'S BEEN several years since we heard this yarn the first time, but we enjoyed it about as much when we ran onto it again the other day. Maybe you could stand a repeat:

A motorist was driving through the country when suddenly his motor stopped. He got out of the car and raised the hood to see if he might locate the trouble. All at once a voice from behind him said, "The trouble is in the carburetor."

Quickly the motorist turned around in surprise, but saw only an old horse standing on the other side of the fence watching him. Hardly daring to believe his ears, he asked, "Did you say something?"

"Yes, I said you'd better check your carburetor," replied the horse.

Rushing down the road to the nearest farmhouse, the motorist excitedly related his experience to the old farmer who answered the door. "Was it an old bay horse with one flop ear?" asked the farmer.

"Yes, yes, that's the one!" "Well, don't pay any attention to him," the farmer scoffed. "He don't know anything about automobiles anyway."

★ TEXAS EDUCATION agency has recently distributed a timely little leaflet entitled "What Bosses and Workers Want" that deserves reprinting here:

I WANT A WORKER . . . Who likes his job. Who knows his job. Who keeps himself physically fit.

Who wants to do a day's work for a day's pay. Who wants to get ahead. Who is always on the job unless excused.

Who is cheerful—not sullen. Who works safely—with due consideration for himself and his fellow workers.

Who gets along well with his fellow workers. Who gets a bang out of a job well done.

Who tries to avoid waste and cut costs. Who looks for a better way to do the job.

Who tells the truth; who is sincere. Who gripes little and looks forward.

Who keeps a spirit of teamwork. Who asks questions when he needs help.

Who is willing to face his personal problems squarely. Who tries to put himself in my place now and then.

Who feels that his job is a privilege—not just a right. I would give a worker like that my best. You would too.

I WANT A BOSS . . . Who had something to do with hiring me and who wants me to work for him.

Who helps me when I am new to get acquainted with my job. Who explains to me just what my job is, just what I am expected to do.

Who tells me frequently how I'm getting along; what I do well and what I don't do well; who shows me how to do better.

Who not only thinks of me for what I am but also for what I may become.

Who takes a personal interest in me and my problems. Who listens to my ideas for making the job easier and better.

Who has something to do with my pay and does it when the time comes.

Who stands up for me when I am right. Who is honest and four-square with me.

Who tells me about changes before they are made. Who has a personal faith and confidence in me.

New Gym for School Taking Shape as Foundation Poured

Brick Work on Big Structure to Start in 10 Days

Hamlin Schools' new $150,000 gymnasium and band room was taking shape this week with the pouring of concrete foundations for the 140x130-foot brick and tile structure, located just west of the north section of the Hamlin High School building.

Footings and piers had been poured 10 days ago, and the steel reinforced foundations clearly outline the shape of the structure, which is scheduled to be ready for operation by the start of the new school term in September.

A representative of Price Construction Company of Abilene told a Herald reporter that brick work should begin on the building within 10 days.

The new gymnasium also will house band practice rooms for the Hamlin High School Band, which has been using cramped quarters to the south of the school campus for several years. Adequate storage facilities for instruments and other equipment of the bands will be provided in the new structure, declares Jess Parrish, band director.

The new gymnasium, which will be one of the most modern in all of Central West Texas, will supply a need that has existed for several years. The gym in the old high school building was outgrown several years ago, and high school teams have been using the facilities of Junior High School in recent years.

Lafferty was named to the post April 1. He was sent to a Boy Scout executives' training school at Mendham, New Jersey, for 60 days. He will make his home at Stamford.

The Northern District of the Chisholm Trail Council is composed of Jones, Haskell and Shackelford Counties.

Junior athletes of the Hamlin community are being invited to participate in the summer Junior Olympics, which will be staged as part of a national program July 2 in Abilene, according to Truman Nix and Jim Herridge, coaches at Hamlin High School.

Boys between 11 and 17 years of age are eligible to participate in the events, which will include all regulation track and field events.

Winners of the Abilene olympics will go to Houston for participation in the Olympics of the South in July. Athletes from Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana will take part in that meet.

Both are veteran 4-H members and have outstanding records in leadership, civic responsibilities and church and community affairs.

Living Costs Show Small Gain in April, In Federal Report

Housewives and others of the Hamlin section found no brightness in the government report Thursday that living costs increased slightly in April. The rise of one-tenth of one per cent was enough to give about 1,000,000 workers a one-cent-an-hour wage boost.

The wage rise will go to auto and other workers who have union contracts tied to the government's index.

The Labor Department said the April rise in its living costs index was chiefly due to seasonally higher food costs for the average American family.

The index kept by the Bureau of Labor statistics rose to 114.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base period. This is one-half of one per cent below the peak set in October, 1953, when the index was 115.4.

Evian Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said the prospect for the summer months is a further gradual rise in food prices with perhaps lower prices for some consumer items such as automobiles and household appliances.

He is making a tour of Central West Texas, beginning in Abilene at 10:00 a. m., touring Anson, Hamlin, Rotan, Roby and Sweetwater, ending in Merkel to attend the Golden Cavalcade celebration on its last night.

Hopper Boys in Army Reunited in Germany To Prove World Small

A couple of Hamlin young men realized that it is not such a big world, after all, a few days ago.

Private First Class Herbert L. (Hub) Hopper, who is serving with the U. S. Army in France, visited with his brother, Sergeant Avery G. (Gene) Hopper, who is serving with the U. S. Army in Germany, the other day. Sergeant Hopper's wife and son, Eddie B. Jr., will join him soon. They are with her parents now in Pennsylvania.

Moisture Is Key To Development of Crops in Section

Although it is pretty early to start counting the chickens of the unhatched eggs on Hamlin area farms, row crop prospects are encouraging.

Territory around Hamlin has been buzzing with tractors, planters, cultivators and farmers that remind one of the old times when it used to rain in this section. And if working the land is any criterion to the crops, there ought to be some bumper crops come late summer.

Patches of early planted feed and cotton all over the region are looking promising. There is lots of feed nearly knee high, and some cotton is as much as six inches in height. These crops were planted from four to six weeks ago, just before several showers of rain that came just at the right time.

However, most of the row crops are just now coming through the fairly damp soil. Some planting is still in the process.

Moisture, of course, is the key to the crop situation. Most of the area has had some showers of rain. Sections south and east of Hamlin got showers late Sunday evening, as much as an inch falling in the Hanna community, nine miles southeast of here.

T. C. Blankinship on State Degree Board

T. C. Blankinship, vocational agriculture instructor at Hamlin High School, is in Austin this week, where he is working as a member of the state board of awards on selection of Future Farmers of America boys to receive Lone Star Farmer degrees at the forthcoming state FFA convention at Dallas next month.

Two per cent of the 40,000 FFA boys in Texas are eligible to receive the degrees, Blankinship says. Records of prospects are being checked by the state board.

CONTROL WILL HELP KEEP INSECT DAMAGE LOW

Cotton farmers and others connected with the cotton industry in the Hamlin region are becoming more and more concerned about the threatened infestation of insects during the coming season. Warnings have been issued by entomologists and others for several weeks about indicated heavy hatches of grasshoppers and other pests.

However, cotton producers who apply insecticides at the proper time may expect an increase in yield of at least 100 pounds of seed cotton an acre for each treatment. This is a return of about $6 for each dollar spent for insect control, says F. M. Fuller, extension entomologist.

As an aid for cotton farmers in their fight against insects, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has just released its 1956 "Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects." It is bulletin L-128 and is available from the office of County Agent Bill Lehmborg at Anson and other local county agents.

Covered in the guide are suggestions on early and late season control and early stalk destruction and farm clean-up; timing of insecticide applications; seed treatment with systemic insecticides and general information on spraying and dusting.

Also listed are the insects which are best controlled by early season or late season programs along with the recommended dusts or spray for the control program. The recommended amounts and or mixtures of the various insecticides for both dusts and sprays are given along with timely suggestions on timing of applications and when to begin and stop the use of insecticides.

The guide was prepared under the direction of Fuller with assistance from C. F. Garner, assistant extension entomologist, and other members of the entomology department of the Texas A. & M. College. All recommendations listed are based on the results of research work.

Private Enterprise Is Alert

Writing in The Freeman magazine some time ago, Paul L. Poirot dealt with "The Government's Freight Business"—the parcel post service. It is a service that has run up heavy deficits for the taxpayers over the years.

In the course of his article Mr. Poirot paid tribute to the spirit of private enterprise in facing such manifestly unfair competition. He wrote: "Railway Express survives, and new private ventures such as the freight forwarders, the united parcel services, truck and airline freight services are growing in stature as competitors. They illustrate the determined response of private enterprise to any real need which arises. Few persons can even imagine how much better such private service could and would be if the government would only leave the freight business alone—leave the market free to function as man's guide in the satisfaction of his wants."

Parcel post is just one example of the truism Mr. Poirot underlined. There is certainly no service or commodity for which there is a need and demand that private enterprise cannot or will not produce. And there is no justification whatsoever for the taxpayers at large having to subsidize a part of the cost of a commercial service—the whole bill should be paid by those who use it.

There is hope that this session of Congress will get down to work on the whole government-in-business problem. The Hoover Commission reports have charted the way. And—as the commission has pointed out—parcel post is one of the fields where action is needed.

Wanted—A Man

A man who can find things to be done without the help of a manager and three assistants.

A man who gets to work on time in the morning and does not imperil the lives of others in the attempt to be the first to quit work at night.

A man who is neat in appearance and does not sulk because of an hour overtime in emergencies.

A man who listens carefully when he is spoken to and asks only enough questions to insure the accurate carrying out of instructions.

A man who looks you straight in the eye and tells the truth every time.

A man who does not pity himself for having to work.

A man who is cheerful, courteous to everyone and always determines to make good.

A man who, when he does not know, says, "I don't know," and when he is asked to do anything says, "I'll try."

Slow-Down-and-Live Campaign Must Rely on Individuals for Effectiveness

"Drive in haste, repent at leisure!"

This new version of an old proverb was quoted this week by E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, as he urged drivers to support the speed control program of the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council. This program is being conducted in cooperation with the "Slow-Down-and-Live" program of the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators.

"Anyone who is unimpressed by the 'Drive in haste, repent at leisure' warning should pay a visit to some of our local hospitals," McFadden said. "There are many patients within their walls who are suffering the results of traffic accidents, many of which occurred months ago. A good proportion of these people would not be suffering now if they had not been in too great a hurry to get somewhere."

He cited National Safety Council figures that show that exceeding the speed limit or driving too fast for conditions is a factor in over one-third of the fatal traffic accidents reported annually. He explained that this does not necessarily mean breakneck speed—it means any speed that is unsafe for the condition of the road, the weather, the vehicle or the driver. "What may be a reasonable speed on a certain road on a clear day may be altogether too fast on the same road if the weather is rainy or foggy," McFadden said. "And a speed that is safe when the driver is alert and physically fit may be too fast when he is fatigued or suffering from some ailment."

He gave the following six points as a guide to drivers in determining safe speeds:

1. Drive at a speed that will enable you to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.
2. Slow down before you get to curves and intersections.
3. At night, drive at the speed which will let you stop within your headlight range.
4. Drive with traffic. You are probably going too fast if you are passing many cars—too slow if many cars are passing you.
5. Where children are playing, be able to stop in a car length or less.
6. When you're tired or inattentive, stop.

"So you want another day off," snorted the office chief to his small office boy. "I'm anxious to hear what excuse you have this time. You've been off for your grandfather's funeral four times this year already."
"Today my grandma's getting married again," said the youngster.

Teen-Age Baseballers Win First Two Games Of Matched Playing

Hamlin's teen-age baseball crew got off to a good start, taking their first two matched games of the season, reports Truman Nix, coach of the group.

Friday night the teen-agers nosed out the Sweetwater Blues by an extra inning 10 to 9 score. The tilt was tied 7 to 7 at the end of seven innings. The Nix-men pushed over three runs in the eighth frame, only to be threatened by two tallies when the Blues came to bat.
Tuesday night the teen-agers trounced the Merkel nine 10 to 2 at Hamlin. Adair went all the way for Hamlin, allowing only four bingles and striking out five. Hamlin scored seven runs in the first inning.
Friday night the Hamlin boys return to Sweetwater for a tilt against the Sweetwater Reds.

SETTING TEMPTATION.
"Insurance is the greatest thing in the world," said the insurance agent. "No man should be without it. I even carry a $50,000 policy, payable to my wife."
"It's too much," declared the harassed prospect. "What excuse can you give her for living?"

Omar Burleson Makes Announcement For Reelection to Position in Congress

Omar Burleson, incumbent, has authorized The Herald to make his announcement for reelection to Congress. He issues the following statement:

It is customary for a candidate for public office to make a formal announcement of his intentions. I have filed my application for a place on the July 28 primary ballot with each county Democratic chairman for reelection to Congress. Due to pressing business of the Congress this is about the first opportunity I have had to issue a newspaper statement.
In my previous campaign announcement I quoted Champ Clark, one of America's great statesmen and former speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States. He made the following statement, not in a political campaign but as political doctrine: "The truth is being more and more realized that, other things being equal or anywhere nearly equal, the value of the representative (in Congress) increases in proportion to his length of service. The best plan for a constituency to pursue is to select a man of good sense, good habits and personal integrity, young enough to learn, and reelect him so long as he retains his facilities and is faithful to his trust."
It is my hope that I thus qualify, and on this principle I base my candidacy for reelection to Congress.
My record should be known to all who have given attention to it. During my service in the Congress a constant effort has been made to do two things particularly: (1) To know the views and feelings of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest possible degree in the Congress; and (2) to inform and advise as clearly as I can on those issues which affect my constituency and our nation.
Space will not permit a discussion of specific issues, simply because there are too many. Generally, however, I have consistently voted to reduce expenditures of government at every opportunity, only voting for those things applicable to our national defense and those things which I believed to be beneficial to the people as a whole. As the record will show, on many occasions I have found myself in the minority but have never failed to exercise the right to vote and to do as I thought best, regardless of any other consideration. In this session of the Congress alone I have voted to reduce spending by more than $6,000,000,000, which I did not believe was necessary, although some of it may have been desirable. It is a simple fact that the only way our taxes can ever be reduced is cutting expenditures.
At all times I have tried to represent the very best interest of every segment of the economy in our 17th Congressional District. All matters affecting the farmer, the oil business, the business and professional man have received my unstinted attention. Many times we do not accomplish all we think should be accomplished in these things, but I know in my heart, and believe those who have had occasion to learn first-hand know, that I have done the best possible under all the circumstances which must be met.
Farmers know of my work in their behalf. The independent oil operator is generally aware of my activities in behalf of the industry. Two or three items especially are of constant and continuing importance to the oil economy: Namely, the depletion allowance, foreign oil imports and the necessity of preventing the federal government from controlling gas prices at the well-head.
Most veterans are aware of my work connected with their problems. As a veteran, it has given me great personal satisfaction in rendering every possible deserving service.
In all things I have favored states' rights. This proposition covers many issues and, in all of them, my record will show my opposition to the federal government's encroachment in any field rightfully belonging to the states.
At all times I have tried to conduct myself in a manner to deserve to the greatest possible degree the great trust and confidence, which have been placed in me by my friends for the past several years. To violate that trust in any respect would be unthinkable, and it shall never knowingly be done.
Both my wife and I have tried at all times to do those things to bring the greatest possible credit to our area, and shall continue to do so.

REELECTION to the office of Congressman from this 17th District is being sought by Omar Burleson (above) of Anson. In a statement to The Herald he declares he will make an active campaign after his return from the capital soon.

on house administration, and because of the important committee assignments, it is necessary that I be in Washington at the time when the Congress has about completed three-fourths of its session.
Just as soon as possible, without neglecting highly important business, I expect to return home to campaign. In the meantime, I hope you, my friends, will believe in me and trust me with your affairs in the United States capital. I shall continue to be devoted and faithful to every responsibility.

"Hot Flashes Stopped" or strikingly relieved
in 63-80% of cases in doctors' tests

• If you're miserable from the "hot flashes" and accompanying irritability, restlessness, nervousness, "change of life" — you may be suffering unnecessarily!

• But... in tests by doctors... Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound and Tablets brought relief from such functionally-caused suffering to 63% and 80% (respectively) of the women tested! Complete or striking relief!

Yes! Research has proved these medicines thoroughly modern in action... has shown you where to look for relief from those distressing, nervous, "out of sorts" feelings of mid-life "change".

Bo... Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — or new, improved Tablets with added iron! (Wonderful, too, for the functional pains of menopause.)

It acts through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve distress of those awful "hot waves".

Life Insurance Had Beginnings Early, Rotary Club Told

Principles of life and burial insurance have been in effect for centuries, having been practiced in Bible and early Roman empire times, declared David Adams, life insurance specialist of Abilene, when he spoke at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the Hamlin Rotary Club at the oil mill guest house.

With the operation of guilds and societies for providing payments and services on death of the principals during early civilization, the life insurance business has grown into a major business today, Adams said. Now more than $372,000,000,000 of life insurance is in force.

First life insurance policy recorded was in England when settlement of a claim in court was made on basis of a policy held by the beneficiary, Adams revealed. He discussed the advantages of life insurance, pointing out that one will win if he lives, dies or quits while covered with life insurance.

Ken Hewett was recognized as Junior Rotarian for the day.

Other guests included Mike Hower, Jack Dupree and A. B. Youngblood of Abilene; Ralph Wallace of Sweetwater; W. M. Blackburn and K. K. Francis of Stamford.

State Capitol NEWS

By Vern Sanford, Manager,
Texas Press Association.

Austin—Nearly 100,000 young Texans take off their mortar boards and roll up their sleeves this week.

Analysts predict that figures, when complete, will show a record number of diplomas and degrees awarded this year.

Texas Education Agency pegs public school graduates at between 64,000 and 65,000. Degrees being conferred by state supported colleges and universities are estimated by the Texas Legislative Council at 20,000. Private and church supported schools swell the graduate rolls several thousand more.

Awaiting these young people, said commencement speakers, is unprecedented opportunity. Examples of the 1956 high school graduate's future, as outlined by an Austin speaker: (1) A longer life span—44 years ahead for boys, 49 for girls; (2) higher earnings averaging a quarter million dollars apiece; (3) less work, dwindling to a 30-hour week; and (4) ever increasing ease and leisure as technology advances.

Concrete evidence of the speaker's promises is the job placement study. University of Texas Student Employment Bureau reports five to 10 job offers per graduate at better-than-ever salaries. Personnel in some deans' offices speak wearily of the impossibility of coping with the year-end flood of would-be employers.

High school officials say many graduates began work between their last exam and commencement night.

A bonanza or a blunder—Texans are in disagreement as to which term applies to the new highway bill.

Senate passage of the bill left only a few details to be ironed out in House-Senate conference before sending the measure to the president. Final enactment will set into motion a 13-year, $51,000,000,000 interstate highway construction program.

Texas Highway Department officials are frankly jubilant. They are poised to begin letting contracts August 1, using the new supply of federal funds. "We'll be scraping the bottom of the barrel in July letting," declared State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer.

Greer said the new law would mean a minimum increase of $37,000,000 a year in federal road building aid to Texas—or double the present amount.

He called it "the most far reaching piece of highway legislation yet enacted." He predicted an era of unparalleled development.

Governor Allan Shivers was less enthusiastic. He charged turning a state function over to "bungling bureaucracy" made it unduly costly.

His objection was to the provision giving the secretary of labor, rather than the state, power to set wages on all contracts. "This means a third less highway mileage than the people would otherwise get," said Shivers.

"Tax money always dwindles in value," said the governor, "when it is sent to Washington for processing and returned to the state."

Liquor, legal and illegal, during April brought the state 2,401,414 in revenues. Largest part, some $1,513,932, came from the beer excise tax.

A total of 505 criminal complaints resulted in 308 convictions, 50 jail sentences and $45,929 in fines.

Beneficiaries were the available school fund, old age assistance fund, clearance fund and others which received $2,203,518.

Champions of Texas' right-to-work law haven't given up the fight.

Railroad attorneys and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd contend that the U. S. Supreme Court decision on a Nebraska law did not touch on the constitutional issues involved in Texas. This was pointed out in a supplemental brief filed last week with the Texas Supreme Court.

A ruling is expected soon from the state's high court on the hard fought "Amarillo case" involving railroad unions' right to demand closed shop contracts.

Union leaders interpret the U. S. court ruling as knocking out state anti-closed shop laws in the railroad industry. Shepperd and railroad lawyers say the decision, if anything, strengthens the case for the Texas law.

A rising skyline has been proposed to meet the University of Texas' critical classroom needs.

President Logan Wilson suggests that the only two remaining sites on the original 40-acre campus be used for eight-story buildings. Most present buildings have four floors. For development five to 10 years hence, Dr. Wilson recommends expanding to the east of the present campus in the area adjacent to memorial stadium.

Fairness of the first televised murder trial in Texas history is being challenged in the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Defense attorneys charge that District Attorney Tom Moore of "Waco was more interested in 'putting on a show' in the Waco trial of Harry L. Washburn than in giving the man a fair trial.

Violation of Texas election laws was admitted to C. T. Johnson in a deposition just taken in Austin. Johnson admitted spending $1,200 in travel expenses during his 1954 campaign for lieutenant governor, but reported only $125 to the secretary of state. Previously he had testified under oath that he had spent "no more and no less" than $125.

U. S. Trust & Guaranty Company depositors still may have a long, weary wait for their money.

At one time State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler said he hoped to be able to start making partial payments after July 1. With that in mind a Fort Worth woman now seeks court action to designate her a preferred creditor because she is a depositor.

District Judge Charles O. Betts pointed out proper procedure is first to seek priority with the receiver. If he refuses, creditors may appeal through the courts. This takes months, sometimes years.

Walter L. Bell has resigned as director of the State Board of Control, effective October 15. He has held the job since 1953. He has no immediate plans except to return to his Fort Worth home and rest. . . . Rev. James Hamilton Clark, chaplain of the Texas House of Representatives for the past 10 years, has passed away. He had been a Methodist minister in South and Central Texas

G. B. Howington, Retired Painter, 84, Dies Last Friday

Funeral services for Gideon Blackburn Howington, 84-year-old retired carpenter, were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Hamlin Church of Christ. Officiating at the rites was Bruce Proctor of Abilene.

Howington, who had been a resident of the Hamlin community for half a century, died Friday morning at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital following a heart attack suffered three weeks ago.

Born September 28, 1871, at Georgetown, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Howington. He married the former Nora Estelle Steed on December 26, 1901, and had moved this West Texas community in 1906. He and his brother, the late Ed Howington, owned and operated a dray line business in Hamlin for several years. He was a member of the Church of Christ and the Woodmen of the World. Burial was in the Hamlin East Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Haskell Carter, C. R. Binnicker, Joe Dillingham, J. L. Herman, Roy Brown and Bonnie Bingham.

Surviving the octogenarian are his wife, Mrs. G. B. Howington; two sons, William Edward Howington of Hillendale, California, and Ernest Howington of Sweetwater; four daughters, Mrs. W. D. Adair and Mrs. Frank Tucker of Hamlin, Mrs. J. L. Woodson of Stamford and Mrs. Mark Bailey of Odessa; 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; one nephew, Byron E. Lucore of Bonita; and one niece, Mrs. Henry Wood of Los Angeles, California.

WORKS FOR OTHERS.

A minister and a doctor had fallen into a habit of joking with each other about their respective professions. When the minister inquired about the health of an elderly member of his congregation, whom he knew the doctor was attending, the physician put on a serious mien.

"Poor Thompson," he sighed, "to tell you the truth, he needs your help more than he needs mine."

"Is it that bad?" inquired the minister with concern.

"Yes," replied the doctor, shaking his head. "I've been talking to him to get him to take a nap every day and he just won't do it. Maybe you can help there."

★ BACKGROUND ★

From an average American family just like you.

Age 37.

Married, three children—two boys, one girl.

Health good.

Member Second Christian Church.

PROFESSION:

Petroleum Consultant and Management Consultant. During the war years served as a geological supervisor on a strategic minerals project and later as a geologist in the Arctic Circle Region on a joint project between the United States and Canada (U. S. Army Engineers and Imperial Oil, Ltd.). My professional career has been as a geologist, over half of that time as an independent consultant.

EDUCATION:

Degree Indiana University. Attended Baylor University Law School. Attended Denver University Law School.

MEMBERSHIPS:

Optimist Club, Country Club, Petroleum Club, The American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical, and Petroleum Engineers, Abilene Geological Society, National Federation of Independent Businessmen, Texas-Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, member of Rotary Club while in Eastland, Elks Club in Lamar, Colorado, American Association of Petroleum Engineers, and a charter member of Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lamar, Colorado, etc.

RESIDENCE:

Have resided in the 17th Congressional District since 1947. Lived nearly 100% of adult life in the South and West—Alabama, Colorado, Texas.

FAMILY:

(IMMEDIATE BACKGROUND)—Just a plain ordinary family. Politics—Democrats. Mother and Father are Methodists. Sister and brother-in-law are Methodists. I believe in the freedom of worship. We are all children of God. Brother killed in action in World War II with the 36th Texas Division.

FINANCIAL STATUS:

No too much. I owe bills and pay taxes the same as you.

HOBBIES:

Extensive reading, philosophy, history, social science, government, law, etc.

I tried playing basketball, running, and jumping, having not done so since my school days. I discovered that a man in his thirties just doesn't do those things too much too often. So, I stick to hiking and mountain climbing whenever I find the time.

RELIGIOUS BELIEFS:

Have always believed in God and Jesus Christ. Also have always believed in the freedom of worship as one of our Great American heritages as held forth in our Constitution, and given to us by our founding fathers. We are all children of God. Although many of us, including myself, have at various periods of our lives become less than frequent church goers, it would be a much better world if all of us attended the Church of our choice regularly and participated in God's work bringing love and understanding into our lives and providing for our spiritual needs. I come from a Christian family and attended church every Sunday until as an adult my occupation as a geologist kept me on the job often on Sundays at various and increasing periods of time with less than frequent attendance. Recently, I reaffirmed my belief in God and Christ again with baptism and church attendance. This is my confession before God and you. It has absolutely nothing to do with my running for public office but since I am, you, the voters, are entitled to know about my religious beliefs.

NOTE:

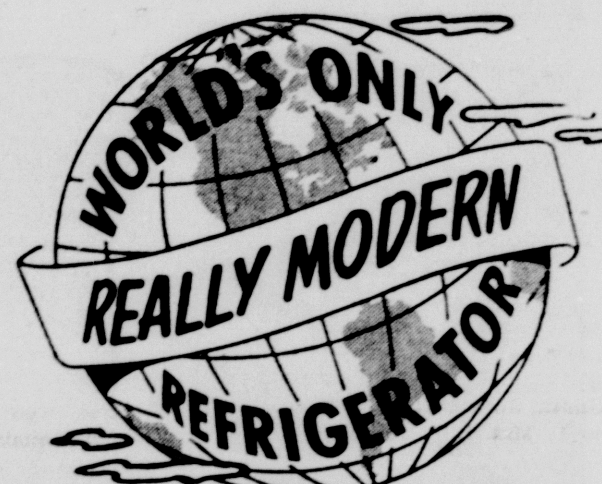

The above summary has been published at the request and insistence of my many, many friends throughout the district who want you, the voters, to know a little something about me. I, personally, will conduct this campaign WITHOUT reference to religion, personalities, and individuals.

You know exactly what I stand for and what I want to accomplish for us, the people in this district.

God willing, we shall bring the government back to us, the people.

Do not forget to go to the polls and vote for the candidate of your choice in the July 28th Primary.

July Draft Call to Take Three from Jones County Area

An estimated three young men will go from Jones County during the July draft call. The July draft call for Texas asks for 641 men, compared to 586 for June. Lieutenant Colonel Marlin D. Lewis, deputy state selective service director, announced Friday from Austin.

This is the state's share of a national call for 13,000 men, all for the Army.

At the same time, Colonel Lewis announced a July call on approximately half the state's draft boards for 1,099 men to take pre-induction physical and mental examinations for future calls.

He said that the boards not receiving a quota for these examinations in July already had been called upon to furnish men for examination in June.

The July quota will be filled with men who are 22 years of age or older on July 1, with the exception of delinquents or volunteers, who may be younger.

Colonel Lewis said he expected the July call to be filled with volunteers and men without children. He said delinquents are liable first, but the state has next to none.

Young People from Hamlin Enroll in McMurry Clinic

Three Hamlin young people have registered for McMurry College's eighth annual summer band and twirling school, to be held at Abilene July 15 to 28.

They are Jerry Crowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Crowley; Sara Kay Fomby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Fomby; and Everett Gibson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gibson.

Raymond T. Bynum, professor of music and director of the Indian Band at McMurry, said that 157 young people from 34 Texas towns and cities had sent in the registration fee for the two-week school on June 1.

Final registration is expected to top last year's record enrollment of 1370 students, Bynum said. The students will be housed in McMurry dormitories and will take their meals in the college dining hall.

They will receive instruction in solo, ensemble and concert band playing, music theory, twirling, drum majoring and other activities from Bynum's staff of about 20 band and twirling specialists.

Texas public school band directors who will serve as instructors include Fred Smith of Brownfield, D. W. Craine Jr. of Abilene, Robert Gans of Winters, Dwight Toombs of Wylie, Gene Smith and J. R. McIntyre of Odessa, Betty Wallace of Dallas, Fred Steffey of Abilene, Fred Rotzler of Donna, Gary DeShazo of Balinger and others.

The twirling school staff of nine instructors will again be directed by Bill Adkins of Haskell and Mrs. LaGaytha Gothard of El Paso.

Anyone desiring further information on registration or cost of the band and twirling school is requested to contact Bynum at the McMurry College Band Hall in Abilene.

MADE LITTLE DIFFERENCE.

The retired and very elderly professor who had lived alone so many years in the quaint stone house was though by his neighbors to be a bit queer. One lady was quite sure of it when one day she paused in her yard to watch the strange old man holding a sprinkling can poised above a flower box on his back porch.

At last she called, "Professor, there's no bottom in that sprinkling can." "It's quite all right," he assured her. "These are artificial flowers I'm watering."

KEEP EGGS COOL.

When daytime temperatures hit 90 degrees, egg quality will hit the skids unless egg producers make some change in management practices, says Kermit Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist.

VERY UNSOUND.

Percy—"How do I feel? Fine—sound as a dollar!" Flagg—"Boy, you'd better see the doctor quick."

When it comes to Protection ... it pays to have the BEST

Maybe this young lady's escort has no idea of "running out of gas"—but, just in case, she has the situation well in hand. That's the smart way to be about dependable insurance, too—because it's one thing you can't get when you really need it most.

After an accident or loss has occurred, it's too late to buy better insurance if the policy you have is unsatisfactory. So don't gamble with "cheap" insurance. Buy only the BEST—and buy it today.

NOT USED TO IT.

A doctor was called on by a testy aristocrat.

"What's your trouble?" asked the doctor.

"That's what you are supposed to find out," was the reply.

"If you'll be kind enough to wait an hour or two, I'll call in a friend of mine, a veterinarian, who is the only person I know who can make a diagnosis without asking questions."

EVERYTHING'S FINE.

A group of sedate tourist couples came to a California beach and one good lady was shocked at the swim suits.

"Never before, anywhere, have I seen girls so utterly lacking in modesty," said she to her husband. "Have you, Henry?"

"Sure haven't," Hank agreed. "And the climate out here is mighty fine, too."

YER OUT!

If this has never happened to you no words can describe the awful finality of an umpire's decision. It falls like a sentence of death on a boy's heroic dream. And with it ebbs out the joy of his mightiest hit, and of the fly he caught last inning.

But thus baseball helps to build men. A fellow learns how to lose. And that's the first step in learning how to win. But the biggest lessons of life no sportsman can teach. On a higher tier than sportsman's teamwork and the desire to win are FAITH, BROTHERHOOD, AND DEDICATION OF LIFE. These are the ingredients of spiritual victory—the fabric of God-inspired manhood at its best.

We can rightly be proud of our sandlots and Little Leagues. But the character of American manhood depends most of all on our churches.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Baptists of District Schedule Rally Day At Lueders June 18

Baptist of a 12-county area comprising District 17 will attend a district rally at Lueders Baptist Encampment grounds Monday, June 18.

Activities will begin at 10:00 a. m. and will continue through an evening worship service. Families are invited to come and spend the day or any portion of it they can, leaders announce.

Lunch and supper will be available at the cafeteria, Henry Littleton, camp manager, said.

Among the personalities will be Dr. Ralph J. Grant of Lubbock, president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas; Dr. Lindell O. Harris, head of the Bible department of Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene; Fred Hughes of Boerne, president of the Texas Baptist Brotherhood; and Rev. Robert H. Lloyd of Munday, camp pastor of the Intermediate RA camp. Free periods in the day will provide time for rest, relaxation and inspection of the camp.

A feature of the afternoon will be dedication of the new swimming pool, which is under construction and is hoped to be completed by that time. Rev. Byron Bryant of Stamford, encampment president, will conduct the dedication.

Counties which compose District 17 are Shackelford, Taylor, Nolan, Fisher, Jones, Stonewall, Haskell, Kent, Stephens, Eastland, Callahan and Knox.

Intermediate RA camp opens June 18 and continues through June 21.

Regular Marketing Practices Important to Egg Producers of Area

Hamlin area producers are advised that egg producers can realize more net profit year-in and year-out by selling their product on known grade standards and to a buyer who will pay the highest average price each year in relation to cost of selling.

Some producers selling direct to consumers, points out F. Z. Beamblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, receive a higher price per dozen but because of marketing cost their net is less than could have been obtained from other sources. Too, adds the specialist, many producers believe the higher their take of the consumer's food dollar the better their profit. This isn't necessarily true. The limiting factor may be the production that can be moved.

For example, a producer through direct sales may be able to dispose of the production from 1,000 hens at a profit of $2.50 per hen and get about 65 per cent of the consumer dollar. On the other hand, by selling to a buyer for resale to consumers he could move the total production from 2,000 hens at a profit of $2 per hen. The total net income would be much larger from the larger unit even though the per cent of the consumer dollar retained would be less.

Memorial Day Was Beginning of New Safe Traffic Drive

"Hamlin area motorists are reminded that Memorial Day was the beginning of our Slow-down-and-live campaign for the summer of 1936," said Captain G. L. Morahan of the Abilene Highway Patrol District.

Captain Morahan said, "Slow-down-and-live is an annual nationwide campaign sponsored by the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators, as a result of a plea from President Eisenhower, to reduce our mounting highway death toll. It is concentrated in the Memorial Day to Labor Day period, when holiday and vacation traffic bring the biggest traffic load, bring deaths and injuries on the open highway to the peak point of the year. It is concentrated on a single basic factor in the traffic toll—dangerous haste.

"The fact that our own local accident rate shows an increase that is alarming is enough for us to put forth every effort we have at our disposal to reduce this tragic toll," Captain Morahan declared. He urged that motorists start earlier, consider vehicle and weather conditions, and "be your brother's keeper."

The highway patrolmen are concentrating on violations that cause accidents, and especially during this campaign they will be more watchful, more alert to such violations, and work a little harder to make your vacation months enjoyable.

Captain Morahan warned motorists to remember "Your life is in the hands that hold your steering wheel—slow down and live!"

Most of us lead a double life.

One minute we're a BUYER. The next minute we're a SELLER . . . of goods, services, time, or talents.

Of course, there's some incompatibility in a Buyer-Seller combination. About like you'd expect in a dog-and-cat mixture.

Consequently, we sometimes get to playing our part as Mr. Buyer with such enthusiasm we forget that our other self, Mr. Seller, has to put dollars in our pocket before our Mr. Buyer self can spend them out of it.

And every time we, as Mr. Buyer, take one of those dollars out of circulation here by spending it out of town, we shrink Mr. Seller's market so it's a little harder for him to get us some more dollars.

It's too bad we don't get more teamwork out of our two personalities. When Mr. Buyer is cutting Mr. Seller's throat, we need to recall that they are both using the same throat.

By June Jones

TWO HAMLIN MEN were talking across the fence the other afternoon late.

"Say, Bill, how did you get that swelling on your nose?"

"Oh, I bent down to smell a brose in my garden."

"You mean a rose, don't you? There's no 'b' in rose."

"There was in this one."

IT'S BEEN several years years since we heard this yarn the first time, but we enjoyed it about as much when we ran onto it again the other day. Maybe you could stand a repeat:

A motorist was driving through the country when suddenly his motor stopped. He got out of the car and raised the hood to see if he might locate the trouble. All at once a voice from behind him said, "The trouble is in the carburetor."

Quickly the motorist turned around in surprise, but saw only an old horse standing on the other side of the fence watching him. Hardly daring to believe his ears, he asked, "Did you say something?"

"Yes, I said you'd better check your carburetor," replied the horse.

Rushing down the road to the nearest farmhouse, the motorist excitedly related his experience to the old farmer who answered the door. "Was it an old bay horse with one flop ear?" asked the farmer.

"Yes, yes, that's the one!"

"Well, don't pay any attention to him," the farmer scoffed. "He don't know anything about automobiles anyway."

TEXAS EDUCATION agency has recently distributed a timely little leaflet entitled "What Bosses and Workers Want" that deserves reprinting here:

I WANT A WORKER . . .

Who likes his job.

Who knows his job.

Who keeps himself physically fit.

Who wants to do a day's work for a day's pay.

Who wants to get ahead.

Who is always on the job unless excused.

Who is cheerful—not sullen.

Who works safely—with due consideration for himself and his fellow workers.

Who gets along well with his fellow workers.

Who gets a bang out of a job well done.

Who tries to avoid waste and cut costs.

Who looks for a better way to do the job.

Who tells the truth; who is sincere.

Who gripes little and looks forward.

Who keeps a spirit of teamwork.

Who asks questions when he needs help.

Who is willing to face his personal problems squarely.

Who tries to put himself in my place now and then.

Who feels that his job is a privilege—not just a right.

I would give a worker like that my best. You would too.

I WANT A BOSS . . .

Who had something to do with hiring me and who wants me to work for him.

Who helps me when I am new to get acquainted with my job.

Who explains to me just what my job is, just what I am expected to do.

Who tells me frequently how I'm getting along; what I do well and what I don't do well; who shows me how to do better.

Who not only thinks of me for what I am but also for what I may become.

Who takes a personal interest in me and my problems.

Who listens to my ideas for making the job easier and better.

Who has something to do with my pay and does it when the time comes.

Who stands up for me when I am right.

Who is honest and four-square with me.

Who tells me about changes before they are made.

Who has a personal faith and confidence in me.

I would work my heart out for a boss like that. You would, too!

New Gym for School Taking Shape as Foundation Poured

Brick Work on Big Structure to Start in 10 Days

Hamlin Schools' new $150,000 gymnasium and band room was taking shape this week with the pouring of concrete foundations for the 140x130-foot brick and tile structure, located just west of the north section of the Hamlin High School building.

Footings and piers had been poured 10 days ago, and the steel reinforced foundations clearly outline the shape of the structure, which is scheduled to be ready for operation by the start of the new school term in September.

A representative of Price Construction Company of Abilene told a Herald reporter that brick work should begin on the building within 10 days.

The new gymnasium also will house band practice rooms for the Hamlin High School Band, which has been using cramped quarters to the south of the school campus for several years. Adequate storage facilities for instruments and other equipment of the bands will be provided in the new structure, declares Jess Parrish, band director.

The new gymnasium, which will be one of the most modern in all of Central West Texas, will supply a need that has existed for several years. The gym in the old high school building was outgrown several years ago, and high school teams have been using the facilities of Junior High School in recent years.

Lafferty was named to the post April 1. He was sent to a Boy Scout executives' training school at Mendham, New Jersey, for 60 days. He will make his home at Stamford.

The Northern District of the Chisholm Trail Council is composed of Jones, Haskell and Shackelford Counties.

Junior Athletes May Take Part in Summer Junior Olympics Tilts

Junior athletes of the Hamlin community are being invited to participate in the summer Junior Olympics, which will be staged as part of a national program July 2 in Abilene, according to Truman Nix and Jim Herridge, coaches at Hamlin High School.

Boys between 11 and 17 years of age are eligible to participate in the events, which will include all regulation track and field events.

Winners of the Abilene olympics will go to Houston for participation in the Olympics of the South in July. Athletes from Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana will take part in that meet.

Hamlin boys interested in taking part in the summer olympics are asked to report to Nix or Herridge right away.

Both are veteran 4-H members and have outstanding records in leadership, civic responsibilities and church and community affairs.

Row Crop Situation Looks Hopeful in Early Survey

Living Costs Show Small Gain in April, In Federal Report

Housewives and others of the Hamlin section found no brightness in the government report Thursday that living costs increased slightly in April. The rise of one-tenth of one per cent was enough to give about 1,000,000 workers a one-cent-an-hour wage boost.

The wage rise will go to auto and other workers who have union contracts tied to the government's index.

The Labor Department said the April rise in its living costs index was chiefly due to seasonally higher food costs for the average American family.

The index kept by the Bureau of Labor statistics rose to 114.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base period. This is one-half of one per cent below the peak set in October, 1953, when the index was 115.4.

Evon Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said the prospect for the summer months is a further gradual rise in food prices with perhaps lower prices for some consumer items such as automobiles and household appliances.

Mr. and Mrs. Oddis Hallmark and Billy have returned from a two-week vacation in New Mexico, Arizona and California. While in California they visited the famous Disneyland and stayed at the Disneyland Hotel.

Ralph Yarborough to Speak Here Saturday

Judge Ralph Yarborough, Democratic candidate for governor will speak in downtown Hamlin Saturday afternoon at 1:25 o'clock. His appearance is sponsored by the Jones County Democratic Club under the direction of Bernard Buie of Stamford.

Yarborough opened his active campaign for governor at Nacogdoches last Friday night when he negated integration of white and negro children, but said the basic issue in the state remains corruption in public office.

He is making a tour of Central West Texas, beginning in Abilene at 10:00 a. m., touring Anson, Hamlin, Rotan, Roby and Sweetwater, ending in Merkel to attend the Golden Cavalcade celebration on its last night.

YEARLOOK DEDICATED TO POSTMAN—Dudley Johns, Texas Tech campus postman since 1941, has the unique honor bestowed on him of having the 1956 school yearbook dedicated to him as a man whose "infectious smiles and friendliness have made the community of Texas Tech a better place in which to live." He is the first Negro to receive this type honor from Tech students.

Hopper Boys in Army Reunited in Germany To Prove World Small

A couple of Hamlin young men realized that it is not such a big world, after all, a few days ago. Private First Class Herbert L. (Hub) Hopper, who is serving with the U. S. Army in France, visited with his brother, Sergeant Avery G. (Gene) Hopper, who is serving with the U. S. Army in Germany, the other day.

Sergeant Hopper's wife and son, Eddie B. Jr., will join him soon. They are with her parents now in Pennsylvania.

Hub Hopper left the states for France April 2, 1955, and Sergeant Avery G. Hopper left for Germany April 6, 1956. Hub is eligible for a discharge in September. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie B. Hopper.

Tate May Undergoes Operation at Dallas

Moisture Is Key To Development of Crops in Section

Although it is pretty early to start counting the chickens of the unhatched eggs on Hamlin area farms, row crop prospects are encouraging.

Territory around Hamlin has been buzzing with tractors, planters, cultivators and farmers that remind one of the old times when it used to rain in this section. And if working the land is any criterion to the crops, there ought to be some bumper crops come late summer.

Patches of early planted feed and cotton all over the region are looking promising. There is lots of feed nearly knee high, and some cotton is as much as six inches in height. These crops were planted from four to six weeks ago, just before several showers of rain that came just at the right time.

However, most of the row crops are just now coming through the fairly damp soil. Some planting is still in the process.

Moisture, of course, is the key to the crop situation. Most of the area has had some showers of rain. Sections south and east of Hamlin got showers late Sunday evening, as much as an inch falling in the Hanna community, nine miles southeast of here.

T. C. Blankinship on State Degree Board

T. C. Blankinship, vocational agriculture instructor at Hamlin High School, is in Austin this week, where he is working as a member of the state board of awards on selection of Future Farmers of America boys to receive Lone Star Farmer degrees at the forthcoming state FFA convention at Dallas next month.

Two per cent of the 40,000 FFA boys in Texas are eligible to receive the degrees, Blankinship says. Records of prospects are being checked by the state board.

CONTROL WILL HELP KEEP INSECT DAMAGE LOW

Cotton farmers and others connected with the cotton industry in the Hamlin region are becoming more and more concerned about the threatened infestation of insects during the coming season. Warnings have been issued by entomologists and others for several weeks about indicated heavy hatches of grasshoppers and other pests.

However, cotton producers who apply insecticides at the proper time may expect an increase in yield of at least 100 pounds of seed cotton on an acre for each treatment. This is a return of about $6 for each dollar spent for insect control, says F. M. Fuller, extension entomologist.

As an aid for cotton farmers in their fight against insects, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has just released its 1956 "Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects." It is bulletin L-128 and is available from the office of County Agent Bill Lehmborg at Anson and other local county agents.

Covered in the guide are suggestions on early and late season control and early stalk destruction and farm clean-up; timing of insecticide applications; seed treatment with systemic insecticides and general information on spraying and dusting.

Also listed are the insects which are best controlled by early season or late season programs along with the recommended dusts or spray for the control program. The recommended amounts and mixtures of the various insecticides for both dusts and sprays are given along with timely suggestions on timing of applications and when to begin and stop the use of insecticides.

The guide was prepared under the direction of Fuller with assistance from C. F. Garner, assistant extension entomologist, and other members of the entomology department of the Texas A. & M. College. All recommendations listed are based on the results of research work.

Private Enterprise Is Alert

Writing in The Freeman magazine some time ago, Paul L. Poirat dealt with "The Government's Freight Business"—the parcel post service. It is a service that has run up heavy deficits for the taxpayers over the years.

In the course of his article Mr. Poirat paid tribute to the spirit of private enterprise in facing such manifestly unfair competition. He wrote: "Railway Express survives, and new private ventures such as the freight forwarders, the united parcel services, truck and airline freight services are growing in stature as competitors. They illustrate the determined response of private enterprise to any real need which arises. Few persons can even imagine how much better such private service could and would be if the government would only leave the freight business alone—leave the market free to function as man's guide in the satisfaction of his wants."

Parcel post is just one example of the truism Mr. Poirat underlined. There is certainly no service or commodity for which there is a need and demand that private enterprise cannot or will not produce. And there is no justification whatsoever for the taxpayers at large having to subsidize a part of the cost of a commercial service—the whole bill should be paid by those who use it.

There is hope that this session of Congress will get down to work on the whole government-in-business problem. The Hoover Commission reports have charted the way. And—as the commission has pointed out—parcel post is one of the fields where action is needed.

Wanted—A Man

A man who can find things to be done without the help of a manager and three assistants.

A man who gets to work on time in the morning and does not imperil the lives of others in the attempt to be the first to quit work at night.

A man who is neat in appearance and does not sulk because of an hour overtime in emergencies.

A man who listens carefully when he is spoken to and asks only enough questions to insure the accurate carrying out of instructions.

A man who looks you straight in the eye and tells the truth every time.

A man who does not pity himself for having to work.

A man who is cheerful, courteous to everyone and always determines to make good.

A man who, when he does not know, says, "I don't know," and when he is asked to do anything says, "I'll try."

Government Hasn't a Dime

"Education has always been a matter for the localities in the states," writes James W. Douthat in the Idaho Voter. "The federal government hasn't got a dime that it doesn't take away from the people. So it can't give anything to a school system without first having taken it away from the very people who should be supporting the state system."

This is true of all other federal "grants" to local government. Government, like an individual, can't get anything for nothing. The taxpayers must put up the money—plus the large additional sums absorbed by the bureaucrats and administrators.

Editorial of the Week

ANNUAL SESSIONS NEEDED

One of President Eisenhower's campaign promises of 1952 was that he would work diligently toward returning to the individual states much of the power that has been concentrated in Washington in the past quarter of a century.

With such a plan we are heartily in accord. But are the individual states ready to assume the responsibilities—and privileges—that go along with such a program?

Frankly, we do not think Texas can assume such responsibilities until there is a thorough overhauling of our present legislative procedure.

As Hulen Brown, Midland attorney who has served in the Texas House, pointed out at the tri-regional meeting of the Jaycees in the Herring Hotel Sunday, Texas legislators are expected to appropriate $1,500,000,000 some 30 months before it is to be spent—and at such a far distant point are supposed to be able to project the methods of taxation to pay for such an appropriation.

This, of course, is the outgrowth of the constitutional rule that the Texas Legislature meet only biennially.

It is highly unlikely that any business firm would accede to a plan by which its management was called into session once each two years. State government is big business, and the Legislature of the state of Texas is, or should be, in active management of such business.

The West Texas Jaycees resolved against such biennial meetings, calling for an annual session of the Legislature. In the resolution, too, cognizance was taken of the poor pay Texas gives to its legislators. At present the legislator may collect for 120 days' service during the two-year term. The daily compensation is not great and consequently, as Brown pointed out, we are getting legislators who either are men rich enough to be able to afford such service without pay, or men who hope to make a good thing out of serving in the Legislature, in the way of retaining fees and other emoluments.—The Amarillo Globe.

Extension of time for further surveys on the proposed reservoir on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River northwest of Hamlin has been granted by the Texas Water Control Board.

Steel and piping have been installed at the new $15,000 swimming pool at the City Park, and actual opening of the pool is slated the latter part of June.

Slow-Down-and-Live Campaign Must Rely on Individuals for Effectiveness

"Drive in haste, repent at leisure!"

This new version of an old proverb was quoted this week by E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, as he urged drivers to support the speed control program of the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council. This program is being conducted in cooperation with the "Slow-Down-and-Live" program of the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators.

"Anyone who is unimpressed by the 'Drive in haste, repent at leisure' warning should pay a visit to some of our local hospitals," McFadden said. "There are many patients within their walls who are suffering the results of traffic accidents, many of which occurred months ago. A good proportion of these people would not be suffering now if they had not been in too great a hurry to get somewhere."

He cited National Safety Council figures that show that exceeding the speed limit or driving too fast for conditions is a factor in over one-third of the fatal traffic accidents reported annually. He explained that this does not necessarily mean breakneck speed—it means any speed that is unsafe for the condition of the road, the weather, the vehicle or the driver. "What may be a reasonable speed on a certain road on a clear dry day may be altogether too fast on the same road if the weather is rainy or foggy," McFadden said. "And a speed that is safe when the driver is alert and physically fit may be too fast when he is fatigued or suffering from some ailment."

He gave the following six points as a guide to drivers in determining safe speeds:

1. Drive at a speed that will enable you to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.
2. Slow down before you get to curves and intersections.
3. At night, drive at the speed which will let you stop within your headlight range.
4. Drive with traffic. You are probably going too fast if you are passing many cars—too slow if many cars are passing you.
5. Where children are playing, be able to stop in a car length or less.
6. When you're tired or inattentive, stop.

GETTING A NEW ONE.
"So you want another day off," snorted the office chief to his small office boy. "I'm anxious to hear what excuse you have this time. You've been off for your grandfather's funeral four times this year already."
"Today my grandma's getting married again," said the youngster.

Teen-Age Baseballers Win First Two Games Of Matched Playing

Hamlin's teen-age baseball crew got off to a good start, taking their first two matched games of the season, reports Truman Nix, coach of the group.
Friday night the teen-agers nosed out the Sweetwater Blues by an extra inning 10 to 9 score. The tilt was tied 7 to 7 at the end of seven innings. The Nixmen pushed over three runs in the eighth frame, only to be threatened by two tallies when the Blues came to bat.
Tuesday night the teen-agers trounced the Merkel nine 10 to 2 at Hamlin. Adair went all the way for Hamlin, allowing only four bingles and striking out five. Hamlin scored seven runs in the first inning.
Friday night the Hamlin boys return to Sweetwater for a tilt against the Sweetwater Reds.

SETTING TEMPTATION.
"Insurance is the greatest thing in the world," said the insurance agent. "No man should be without it. I even carry a $50,000 policy, payable to my wife."
"It's too much," declared the harassed prospect. "What excuse can you give her for living?"

Omar Burleson Makes Announcement For Reelection to Position in Congress

Omar Burleson, incumbent, has authorized The Herald to make his announcement for reelection to Congress. He issues the following statement:
It is customary for a candidate for public office to make a formal announcement of his intentions. I have filed my application for a place on the July 28 primary ballot with each county Democratic chairman for reelection to Congress. Due to pressing business of the Congress this is about the first opportunity I have had to issue a newspaper statement.
In my previous campaign announcement I quoted Champ Clark, one of America's great statesmen and former speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States. He made the following statement, not in a political campaign but as political doctrine: "The truth is being more and more realized that, other things being equal or anywhere nearly equal, the value of the representative (in Congress) increases in proportion to his length of service. The best plan for a constituency to pursue is to select a man of good sense, good habits and personal integrity, young enough to learn, and reelect him so long as he retains his faculties and is faithful to his trust."
It is my hope that I thusly qualify, and on this principle I base my candidacy for reelection to Congress.
My record should be known to all who have given attention to it. During my service in the Congress a constant effort has been made to do two things particularly: (1) To know the views and feelings of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest possible degree in the Congress; and (2) to inform and advise as clearly as I can on those issues which affect my constituency and our nation.
Space will not permit a discussion of specific issues, simply because there are too many. Generally, however, I have consistently voted to reduce expenditures of government at every opportunity, only voting for those things applicable to our national defense and those things which I believed to be beneficial to the people as a whole. As the record will show, on many occasions I have found myself in the minority but have never failed to exercise the right to vote and to do as I thought best, regardless of any other consideration. In this session of the Congress alone I have voted to reduce spending by more than $6,000,000,000, which I did not believe was necessary, although some of it may have been desirable. It is a simple fact that the only way our taxes can ever be reduced is cutting expenditures.
At all times I have tried to represent the very best interest of every segment of the economy in our 17th Congressional District. All matters affecting the farmer, the oil business, the business and professional man have received my unstinted attention. Many times we do not accomplish all we think should be accomplished in these things, but I know in my heart, and believe those who have had occasion to learn first-hand know, that I have done the best possible under all the circumstances which must be met.
Farmers know of my work in their behalf. The independent oil operator is generally aware of my activities in behalf of the industry. Two or three items especially are of constant and continuing importance to the oil economy: Namely, the depletion allowance, foreign oil imports and the necessity of preventing the federal government from controlling gas prices at the well-head.
Most veterans are aware of my work connected with their problems. As a veteran, it has given me great personal satisfaction in rendering every possible deserving service.
In all things I have favored states' rights. This proposition covers many issues and, in all of them, my record will show my opposition to the federal government's encroachment in any field rightfully belonging to the states.
At all times I have tried to conduct myself in a manner to deserve to the greatest possible degree the great trust and confidence, which have been placed in me by my friends for the past several years. To violate that trust in any respect would be unthinkable, and it shall never knowingly be done.
Both my wife and I have tried at all times to do those things to bring the greatest possible credit to our area, and shall continue to do so.
As chairman of the committee

REELECTION to the office of Congressman from this 17th District is being sought by Omar Burleson (above) of Anson. In a statement to The Herald he declares he will make an active campaign after his return from the capital soon.

on house administration, and because of the important committee assignments, it is necessary that I be in Washington at the time when the Congress has about completed three-fourths of its session.
Just as soon as possible, without neglecting highly important business, I expect to return home to campaign. In the meantime, I hope you, my friends, will believe in me and trust me with your affairs in the United States capital. I shall continue to be devoted and faithful to every responsibility.

Three Buyers from Hamlin Stores Attend Fall Market in Dallas

Elsie Withers of Bailey's Department Store, F. E. Bayouth of Frank's Department Store and George Malouf of Frank's Department Store attended the American Fashion Association's fall land back-to-school market in Dallas last week-end at the Adolphus, Baker and Dallas hotels.

The American Fashion Association, comprised of nearly 400 salesmen, displayed more than 1000 lines of women's and children's apparel to the 5,000 buyers in the market.

The featured event of the week was AFA's sales merchandising clinic fashion shows, presented on Monday and Tuesday nights, May 28 and 29, in the crystal ballroom of the Baker Hotel.

The two identical shows "Fashion Hits a New Cycle" projected leading fall colors and new designs at that time.

Life Insurance Had Beginnings Early, Rotary Club Told

Principles of life and burial insurance have been in effect for centuries, having been practiced in Bible and early Roman empire times, declared David Adams, life insurance specialist of Abilene, when he spoke at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the Hamlin Rotary Club at the oil mill guest house.

With the operation of guilds and societies for providing payments and services on death of the principals during early civilization, the life insurance business has grown into a major business today, Adams said. Now more than $372,000,000,000 of life insurance is in force.

First life insurance policy recorded was in England when settlement of a claim in court was made on basis of a policy held by the beneficiary, Adams revealed. He discussed the advantages of life insurance, pointing out that one will win if he lives, dies or quits while covered with life insurance.

Ken Hewett was recognized as Junior Rotarian for the day. Other guests included Mike Hower, Jack Dupree and A. B. Youngblood of Abilene; Ralph Wallace of Sweetwater; W. M. Blackburn and K. K. Francis of Stamford.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford, Manager,
Texas Press Association.

Austin—Nearly 100,000 young Texans take off their mortar boards and roll up their sleeves this week.

Analysts predict that figures, when complete, will show a record number of diplomas and degrees awarded this year.

Texas Education Agency pegs public school graduates at between 64,000 and 65,000. Degrees being conferred by state supported colleges and universities are estimated by the Texas Legislative Council at 20,000. Private and church supported schools swell the graduate rolls several thousand more.

Awaiting these young people, said commencement speakers, is unprecedented opportunity. Examples of the 1936 high school graduate's future, as outlined by an Austin speaker: (1) A longer life span—44 years ahead for boys, 49 for girls; (2) higher earnings averaging a quarter million dollars a piece; (3) less work, according to a 30-hour week; and (4) ever increasing ease and leisure as technology advances. Concrete evidence of the speaker's promises is the job placement story. University of Texas Student Employment Bureau reports five to 10 job offers per graduate at better-than-ever salaries. Personnel in some deans' offices speak wearily of the impossibility of coping with the year-end flood of would-be employers.

High school officials say many graduates began work between their last exam and commencement night.

A bonanza or a blunder—Texas are in disagreement as to which term applies to the new highway bill.

Senate passage of the bill left only a few details to be ironed out in House-Senate conference before sending the measure to the president. Final enactment will set into motion a 13-year, $51,000,000,000 interstate highway construction program.

Texas Highway Department officials are frankly jubilant. They are poised to begin letting contracts August 1, using the new supply of federal funds. "We'll be scraping the bottom of the barrel in July letting," declared State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer.

Greer said the new law would mean a minimum increase of $57,000,000 a year in federal road building aid to Texas—or double the present amount.

He called it "the most far reaching piece of highway legislation yet enacted." He predicted an era of unparalleled development. Governor Allan Shivers was less enthusiastic. He charged turning a state function over to "bungling bureaucracy" made it unduly costly.

His objection was to the provision giving the secretary of labor, rather than the state, power to set wages on all contracts. "This means a third less highway mileage than the people would otherwise get," said Shivers.

"Tax money always dwindles in value," said the governor, "when it is sent to Washington for processing and returned to the state."

Liquor, legal and illegal, during April brought the state 2,401,411 in revenues. Largest part, some $1,513,932, came from the best excise tax.

A total of 565 criminal complaints resulted in 308 convictions, 50 jail sentences and $45,929 in fines.

Beneficiaries were the available school fund, old age assistance fund, clearance fund and others which received $2,203,516.

Champions of Texas' right-to-work law haven't given up the fight.

Railroad attorneys and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd contend that the U. S. Supreme Court decision on a Nebraska law did not touch on the constitutional issues involved in Texas. This was pointed out in a supplemental brief filed last week with the Texas Supreme Court.

A ruling is expected soon from the state's high court on the hard fought "Amarillo case" involving railroad unions' right to demand closed shop contracts.

Union leaders interpret the U. S. court ruling as knocking out state anti-closed shop laws in the railroad industry. Shepperd and railroad lawyers say the decision, if anything, strengthens the case for the Texas law.

A rising skyline has been proposed to meet the University of Texas' critical classroom needs.

President Logan Wilson suggests that the only two remaining sites on the original 40-acre campus be used for eight-story buildings. Most present buildings have four floors. For development five to 10 years hence, Dr. Wilson recommends expanding to the east of the present campus in the area adjacent to memorial stadium.

Fairness of the first televised murder trial in Texas history is being challenged in the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Defense attorneys charge that District Attorney Tom Moore of Waco was more interested in "putting on a show" in the Waco trial of Harry L. Washburn than in giving the man a fair trial.

Violation of Texas election laws was admitted to C. T. Johnson in a deposition just taken in Austin. Johnson admitted spending $1,200 in travel expenses during his 1934 campaign for lieutenant governor, but reported only $125 to the secretary of state. Previously he had testified under oath that he had spent "no more and no less" than $125.

U. S. Trust & Guaranty Company depositors still may have a long, weary wait for their money.

At one time State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler said he hoped to be able to start making partial payments after July 1. With that in mind a Fort Worth woman now seeks court action to designate her a preferred creditor because she is a depositor.

District Judge Charles O. Betts pointed out proper procedure is first to seek priority with the receiver. If he refuses, creditors may appeal through the courts. This takes months, sometimes years.

Walter L. Bell has resigned as director of the State Board of Control, effective October 15. He has held the job since 1933. He has no immediate plans except to return to his Fort Worth home and rest. . . . Rev. James Hamilton Clark, chaplain of the Texas House of Representatives for the past 10 years, has passed away. He had been a Methodist minister in South and Central Texas

WORKS FOR OTHERS.

A minister and a doctor had fallen into a habit of joking with each other about their respective professions. When the minister inquired about the health of an elderly member of his congregation, whom he knew the doctor was attending, the physician put on a serious mien.

"Poor Thompson," he sighed, "to tell you the truth, he needs your help more than he needs mine."

"Is it that bad?" inquired the minister with concern.

"Yes," replied the doctor, shaking his head. "I've been talking to him to get him to take a nap every day and he just won't do it. Maybe you can help there."

PROFESSION:

Petroleum Consultant and Management Consultant. During the war years served as a geological supervisor on a strategic minerals project and later as a geologist in the Arctic Circle Region on a joint project between the United States and Canada (U. S. Army Engineers and Imperial Oil, Ltd.). My professional career has been as a geologist, over half of that time as an independent consultant.

EDUCATION:

Degree Indiana University. Attended Baylor University Law School. Attended Denver University Law School.

MEMBERSHIPS:

Optimist Club, Country Club, Petroleum Club, The American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical, and Petroleum Engineers, Abilene Geological Society, National Federation of Independent Businessmen, Texas-Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, member of Rotary Club while in Eastland, Elks Club in Lamar, Colorado, American Association of Petroleum Engineers, and a charter member of Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lamar, Colorado, etc.

RESIDENCE:

Have resided in the 17th Congressional District since 1947. Lived nearly 100% of adult life in the South and West—Alabama, Colorado, Texas.

FAMILY:

(IMMEDIATE BACKGROUND)—Just a plain ordinary family. Politics—Democrats. Mother and father are Methodists. Sister and brother-in-law are Methodists. I believe in the freedom of worship. We are all children of God. Brother killed in action in World War II with the 36th Texas Division.

FINANCIAL STATUS:

Not too much. I owe bills and pay taxes the same as you.

HOBBIES:

Extensive reading, philosophy, history, social science, government, law, etc.

I tried playing basketball, running, and jumping, having not done so since my school days. I discovered that a man in his thirties just doesn't do those things too much too often. So, I stick to hiking and mountain climbing whenever I find the time.

RELIGIOUS BELIEFS:

Have always believed in God and Jesus Christ. Also have always believed in the freedom of worship as one of our Great American heritages as held forth in our Constitution, and given to us by our founding fathers. We are all children of God. Although many of us, including myself, have at various periods of our lives become less than frequent church goers, it would be a much better world if all of us attended the Church of our choice regularly and participated in God's work, bringing love and understanding into our lives and providing for our spiritual needs. I come from a Christian family and attended church every Sunday until as an adult my occupation as a geologist kept me on the job often on Sundays at various and increasing periods of time with less than frequent attendance. Recently, I reaffirmed my belief in God and Christ again with baptism and church attendance. This is my confession before God and you. It has absolutely nothing to do with my running for public office but since I am, you, the voters, are entitled to know about my religious beliefs.

NOTE:

The above summary has been published at the request and insistence of my many, many friends throughout the district who want you, the voters, to know a little something about me. I, personally, will conduct this campaign WITHOUT reference to religion, personalities, and individuals.

You know exactly what I stand for and what I want to accomplish for us, the people in this district.

God willing, we shall bring the government back to us, the people.

Do not forget to go to the polls and vote for the candidate of your choice in the July 28th Primary.

July Draft Call to Take Three from Jones County Area

An estimated three young men will go from Jones County during the July draft call. The July draft call for Texas asks for 641 men, compared to 586 for June, Lieutenant Colonel Marlin D. Lewis, deputy state selective service director, announced Friday from Austin.

This is the state's share of a national call for 13,000 men, all for the Army.

At the same time, Colonel Lewis announced a July call on approximately half the state's draft boards for 1,099 men to take pre-induction physical and mental examinations for future calls.

He said that the boards not receiving a quota for these examinations in July already had been called upon to furnish men for examination in June.

The July quota will be filled with men who are 22 years of age or older on July 1, with the exception of delinquents or volunteers, who may be younger.

Colonel Lewis said he expected the July call to be filled with volunteers and men without children. He said delinquents are liable first, but the state has next to none.

Young People from Hamlin Enroll in McMurry Clinic

Three Hamlin young people have registered for McMurry College's eighth annual summer band and twirling school, to be held at Abilene July 15 to 28.

They are Jerry Crowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Crowley; Sara Kay Fomby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Fomby; and Everett Gibson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gibson.

Raymond T. Bynum, professor of music and director of the Indian Band at McMurry, said that 157 young people from 34 Texas towns and cities had sent in the registration fee for the two-week school on June 1.

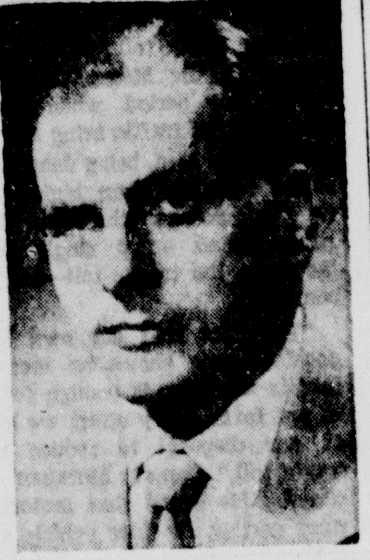

Final registration is expected to top last year's record enrollment of 1370 students, Bynum said. The students will be housed in McMurry dormitories and will take their meals in the college dining hall.

They will receive instruction in solo, ensemble and concert band playing, music theory, twirling, drum majoring and other activities from Bynum's staff of about 20 band and twirling specialists.

Texas public school band directors who will serve as instructors include Fred Smith of Brownfield, D. W. Craine Jr. of Abilene, Robert Gans of Winters, Dwight Toombs of Wylie, Gene Smith and J. R. McIntyre of Odessa, Betty Wallace of Dallas, Fred Steffy of Abilene, Fred Rotzler of Donna, Gary DeShazo of Ballinger and others.

The twirling school staff of nine instructors will again be directed by Bill Adkins of Haskell and Mrs. LaGaytha Gothard of El Paso.

Anyone desiring further information on registration or cost of the band and twirling school is requested to contact Bynum at the McMurry College Band Hall in Abilene.

NOT USED TO IT. A doctor was called on by a testy aristocrat. "What's your trouble?" asked the doctor. "That's what you are supposed to find out," was the reply. "If you'll be kind enough to wait an hour or two, I'll call in a friend of mine, a veterinarian, who is the only person I know who can make a diagnosis without asking questions."

EVERYTHING'S FINE.

A group of sedate tourist couples came to a California beach and one good lady was shocked at the swim suits. "Never before, anywhere, have I seen girls so utterly lacking in modesty," said she to her husband. "Have you, Henry?" "Sure haven't," Hank agreed. "And the climate out here is mighty fine, too."

YER OUT!

If this has never happened to you no words can describe the awful finality of an umpire's decision. It falls like a sentence of death on a boy's heroic dream. And with it ebbs out the joy of his mightiest hit, and of the fly he caught last inning.

But thus baseball helps to build men. A fellow learns how to lose. And that's the first step in learning how to win. But the biggest lessons of life no sportsman can teach. On a higher tier than sportsmanship, teamwork and the desire to win are FAITH, BROTHERHOOD, AND DEDICATION OF LIFE. These are the ingredients of spiritual victory—the fabric of God-inspired manhood at its best.

We can rightly be proud of our sandlots and Little Leagues. But the character of American manhood depends most of all on our churches.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When it comes to Protection... it pays to have the BEST

Maybe this young lady's escort has no idea of "running out of gas"—but, just in case, she has the situation well in hand. That's the smart way to be about dependable insurance, too—because it's one thing you can't get when you really need it most.

After an accident or loss has occurred, it's too late to buy better insurance if the policy you have is unsatisfactory. So don't gamble with "cheap" insurance. Buy only the BEST—and buy it today.

Baptists of District Schedule Rally Day At Lueders June 18

Baptist of a 12-county area comprising District 17 will attend a district rally at Lueders Baptist Encampment grounds Monday, June 18.

Activities will begin at 10:00 a. m. and will continue through an evening worship service. Families are invited to come and spend the day or any portion of it they can, leaders announce.

Lunch and supper will be available at the cafeteria, Henry Littleton, camp manager, said.

Among the personalities will be Dr. Ralph J. Grant of Lubbock, president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas; Dr. Lindell O. Harris, head of the Bible department of Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene; Fred Hughes of Boerne, president of the Texas Baptist Brotherhood; and Rev. Robert H. Lloyd of Munday, camp pastor of the Intermediate RA camp. Free periods in the day will provide time for rest, relaxation and inspection of the camp.

A feature of the afternoon will be dedication of the new swimming pool, which is under construction and is hoped to be completed by that time. Rev. Byron Bryant of Stamford, encampment president, will conduct the dedication.

Counties which compose District 17 are Shackelford, Taylor, Nolan, Fisher, Jones, Stonewall, Haskell, Kent, Stephens, Eastland, Callahan and Knox.

Intermediate RA camp opens June 18 and continues through June 21.

Regular Marketing Practices Important to Egg Producers of Area

Hamlin area producers are advised that egg producers can realize more net profit year-in and year-out by selling their product on known grade standards and to a buyer who will pay the highest average price each year in relation to cost of selling.

Some producers selling direct to consumers, points out F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, receive a higher price per dozen but because of marketing cost their net is less than could have been obtained from other sources. Too, adds the specialist, many producers believe the higher their take of the consumer's food dollar the better their profit. This isn't necessarily true. The limiting factor may be the production that can be moved.

For example, a producer through direct sales may be able to dispose of the production from 1,000 hens at a profit of $2.50 per hen and get about 65 per cent of the consumer dollar. On the other hand, by selling to a buyer for resale to consumers he could move the total production from 2,000 hens at a profit of $2 per hen. The total net income would be much larger from the larger unit even though the per cent of the consumer dollar retained would be less.

Memorial Day Was Beginning of New Safe Traffic Drive

"Hamlin area motorists are reminded that Memorial Day was the beginning of our Slow-down-and-live campaign for the summer of 1936," said Captain G. L. Morahan of the Abilene Highway Patrol District.

Captain Morahan said, "Slow-down-and-live is an annual nationwide campaign sponsored by the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators, as a result of a plea from President Eisenhower, to reduce our mounting highway death toll. It is concentrated in the Memorial Day to Labor Day period, when holiday and vacation traffic bring the biggest traffic load, bring deaths and injuries on the open highway to the peak point of the year. It is concentrated on a single basic factor in the traffic toll—dangerous haste.

"The fact that our own local accident rate shows an increase that is alarming is enough for us to put forth every effort we have at our disposal to reduce this tragic toll," Captain Morahan declared. He urged that motorists start earlier, consider vehicle and weather conditions, and "be your brother's keeper."

The highway patrolmen are concentrating on violations that cause accidents, and especially during this campaign they will be more watchful, more strict to such violations, and work a little harder to make your vacation months enjoyable.

Captain Morahan warned motorists to remember "Your life is in the hands that hold your steering wheel—slow down and live!"

Most of us lead a double life.

One minute we're a BUYER. The next minute we're a SELLER . . . of goods, services, time, or talents.

Of course, there's some incompatibility in a Buyer-Seller combination. About like you'd expect in a dog-and-cat mixture.

Consequently, we sometimes get to playing our part as Mr. Buyer with such enthusiasm we forget that our other self, Mr. Seller, has to put dollars in our pocket before our Mr. Buyer self can spend them out of it.

And every time we, as Mr. Buyer, take one of those dollars out of circulation here by spending it out of town, we shrink Mr. Seller's market so it's a little harder for him to get us some more dollars.

It's too bad we don't get more teamwork out of our two personalities. When Mr. Buyer is cutting Mr. Seller's throat, we need to recall that they are both using the same throat.
